Oh, and the timing. I am inclined to go with the week when more tribal folks are available. The agencies can always send someone else, the tribes are much more limited at this time of year because of subsistence activities. That is the week of August 8.

All - Here is where we stand with agency availability and a few tribal folks for an August IGTT meeting. Tami will be checking with Tribal representatives. Phil - you know these folks better - which week seems like the best representation? Also, in light of our discussions on guidelines, are we going to limit agency participation to one representative? I'm not sure how this group was convened. Let's discuss.
